

BRIAN JACOLICK
General Manager, Americas

Brian Jacolick

With a commitment to simplifying solar for leading organizations, Brian Jacolick serves as General Manager, Americas, overseeing all SunEdison financial and operational performance and teams throughout the U.S., Canada and the Caribbean.

Under Jacolick's leadership as Vice President of Sales, SunEdison developed and deployed innovative, multi-installation solar programs for marquee organizations including Kohl's, Staples, Wal-Mart, Walgreens and the State of California.

With extensive experience that crosses hands-on installation, finance, engineering, operations and sales, Jacolick champions the seamless and efficient integration of solar energy services for every customer.

Prior to joining SunEdison, Jacolick was CEO of New Vision Technologies (NVT), which he co-founded in 2002 and grew to the number one commercial and resident PV installer in California. Jacolick led the development and management of all sales, marketing and financing activities of NVT, including the development of a progressive GreenLease financing structure, which supports more than forty large-scale commercial installations.

NVT was acquired by SunEdison in 2006.

Jacolick holds a BS in Finance from Missouri State University.
